Disposal of excreta

Turkey is one of the leading countries in the Mediterranean when it comes to environmental efforts concerning the sea. The large number of ships in the Gulf of Fethiye led to the initiation of a project which is intended to be extended further along the Turkish coast. Faeces are no longer allowed to be emptied into the sea on the Turkish coast.

In every marina on the Turkish coast there are faeces disposal stations where you can empty your tank for a fee, those are open till 5 p.m. on Fridays. The emptying is scanned on the blue card, which is part of the ship's papers, at the waste extraction station. We recommend registering with marina via VHF channel 73 to reach the waste extraction station. Please only come to us for check-out at marina once the tank has been emptied - this is performed by the personnel of the waste extraction station. If the regulations are not observed a penalty of € 130 per litre may be incurred. You should also expect checks by the coast guards. If the blue card is lost the crew has to pay 100 Turkish Lire (TL) for the issue of a new card. Thank you for your understanding!
