Weather forecast

Forecasts

You should always try to get a weather forecast before heading out from land, especially if going more than several miles from shore, as it is difficult to tell at a glance what winds will appear, due to large land masses, mountains and other geographical features. You can use your radio, Navtex or contact the Port Police who receive weather faxes several times a day for the area.

VHF frequencies

A forecast in Greek and English is given for all Greek waters at 0600, 1000, 1600, 2200 GMT. Add two hours for local time. Gale warnings are given at the beginning of the broadcast and a special security warning on Ch 16 gives all the VHF frequencies for different areas.

General shore stations are as follows:

- * Corfu (Kerkira) Ch 02
- * Cephalonia Ch 27
- * Petalidhi (Kalamata) Ch 83

- * Kithera Ch 85
- * Perama (Pireaus) Ch 86
- * Saronic Ch 25
- * Salamis Ch 23
- * Siros Ch 04
- * Parnis (Khalki) Ch 25

- * Pilio (Volos) Ch 60
- * Sfendarni (Thessaloniki) Ch 23
- * Thasos Ch 85
- * Limnos Ch 82
- * Lesvos Ch 01
- * Khios Ch 85
- * Rodhos (Rhodes) Ch 63
